

Call for Participants Community Liaison Committee – PCB Blood Testing Survey

The Middlesex-London Health Unit is currently seeking community members to voluntarily participate on a new Community Liaison Committee as part of its proposed Blood Testing Survey. The survey is being conducted as part of the project to decommission the PCB storage facility located on Clarke Road in east London. The Community Liaison Committee will act as an open communications link between the Health Unit, and the community on matters related to the Blood Testing Survey.

This opportunity is open to individuals who currently live in the area of Pottersburg Creek, Walker Drain or the former Westinghouse/ABB plant, those who are former employees of Westinghouse/ABB or those who are members of the families of former employees.

Those interested may forward correspondence indicating their name, home address and how they feel they could best contribute to the committee by Friday, September 5, 2008, to:
